

Yellow warning
Rain & Wind

Between
07:00 Sun 23 Sep 2018 and
15:00 Sun 23 Sep 2018

Heavy rain and some strong winds for a time during Sunday.

What to expect

- Spray and flooding on roads probably making journey times longer
- Some delays to road, rail, air and ferry transport are likely
- Delays for high-sided vehicles on exposed routes and bridges possible
- Some short term loss of power and other services is possible

Further details

During Sunday a weather system is expected to track quickly eastwards across southern England, bringing a spell of persistent and at times heavy rain, as well as the potential for some strong winds. It now looks as if the heaviest and most persistent rainfall will be across parts of southern and southeast England where 10-20 mm is expected and up to 30 mm in a few spots. Following the rain on Saturday, and with strong winds forecast, drains and culverts blocked by debris could mean impacts in places which would not normally be affected by these rainfall amounts.

 Medium likelihood of low impacts
